Present Appointments

Consultant General & Upper GI Surgeon

From 2003

University Hospital North Midlands

I have been a consultant surgeon since 2003 in this busy teaching hospital, which is a specialist centre for Upper GI cancer. I have been appointed as the Lead Clinician for Cancer in 2006. I have a wide experience in general surgery, with special interest in advanced Laparoscopic Surgery and Upper Gastro-intestinal surgery. In addition, I perform Bariatric (Obesity) surgery & a joint Bariatric clinic with endocrinologists & Dietician. I have performed over 150 bariatric operations in Stoke apart from my earlier experience. These include Laparoscopic Gastric Banding, Laparoscopic Sleeve Gastrectomy and Laparoscopic Roux-Y Gastric Bypass.

There are ten surgeons dealing exclusively with upper GI cancer, benign disease and bariatric surgery. We have a weekly multi-disciplinary team meeting where all upper GI cancer cases are discussed. This unit routinely performs Open & Laparoscopic 3 stage, Ivor-Lewis, Left Thoraco-abdominal & Trans hiatal oesophago gastrectomies, Radical Total & Subtotal D¹& D² gastrectomies, Laparoscopic Nissen fundoplication & staging laparoscopy for malignant disease.

I do a general surgical on call where I deal with all major trauma, abdominal and other general surgical procedures.

We do a joint bariatric clinic every week with endocrinologists, dieticians & nurse specialists, which also includes a teaching clinic every third week for medical students from the Keele medical school.

Previous Appointments

Post-CCST Laparoscopic Bariatric Fellow

1/01/03 – 30/08/03

University Hospital Aintree, Liverpool

This unit also has a special interest in bariatric surgery & upper GI cancer. This hospital was a national recognised bariatric centre performing over 200 procedures per year in 2001-2002. I did the bariatric clinic on a weekly basis and weekly an all-day three session bariatric list on Wednesday and a weekly Thursday benign and cancer surgery list under supervision. This was a tertiary referral centre for North west of England & North Wales. I learnt the basic assessment, preoperative, & post-operative management of bariatric patients. I performed Laparoscopic Gastric banding, Open & Laparoscopic Roux-y Gastric bypass under supervision.

Lecturer -Surgery

1/01/01- 31/12/02

St. James's University Hospital, Leeds

This is a specialist tertiary referral upper GI unit & Research Unit – where I was involved in Advanced Upper GI cancer & Laparoscopic surgery.

April 2001	SAGES Advanced Laparoscopic Workshop, St. Louis USA
September 2001	Leeds HPB teaching day, St. James's Hospital, Leeds
April 2002	GI Masterclass – University Hospital Cardiff, Wales
July 2003	Bariatric Surgical Course , European Institute, Hamburg
March 2004	Alpine Meet the Experts Bariatric course in Salfenden, Austria
November 2004	Post-Graduate Diploma course at EITS Strasbourg Advanced Laparoscopic Surgery
2009	SILS course in IRCAD , Strasbourg
May 2012	High Resolution Manometry Workshop , San Diego, USA

Experience

Clinical Experience in Training

I have over 14 years of general surgical experience at consultant level in a teaching hospital in UK. I initiated the Upper GI cancer centre in 2003 in Stoke University Hospital and later in 2006 initiated the Bariatric Surgical Service which is now recognised as a major Bariatric centre in UK. This service has grown rapidly where we appointed three bariatric surgeons. I am a recognised trainer for Level 3 Pre CCST-trainees in gastrointestinal surgery as well as in the wide repertoire of general surgery. I have performed Ivor-Lewis oesophago-gastrectomies, both D1& D3 gastrectomies, Open & Laparoscopic Nissen Fundoplication, Hepatico-Jejunostomies low anterior resections with TME (total meso-rectal excision), Abdomino-Perineal Resections (APR), Delorme's rectopexy, Reconstructive Ileo-Anal Pouch Surgery, apart from other routine general surgical elective & emergency work.

I have a particular interest in both lower & upper GI diagnostic & therapeutic endoscopy. I am JAG recognised trainer for Upper GI endoscopy. I have also performed Femoro-popliteal grafts, performed aortic aneurysm surgery & fem-distal graft procedures. I have done a few augmentation & reduction mammoplasty, abdominoplasty in addition to routine breast cancer surgery. I have had some useful experience in endocrine surgery- Thyroidectomy and Adrenalectomy.

Emergency & Trauma Experience

We have a major trauma centre and I routinely deal with major abdominal trauma, both Blunt and penetrating injuries. These include oesophageal, diaphragmatic, duodenal & bowel injuries in addition to solid organ injuries i.e., liver, spleen, pancreas & kidneys.

I routinely performed thoracotomies for oesophageal perforation's & major laparotomies in the emergency settings. I had been an active member of hospital GI bleed- endoscopic & surgical team for 6 years.

Clinical Projects at Work

- Obesity surgery, clinical outcomes between different techniques
- Fast tracking of oesophago- gastric cancer surgery.
- Preoperative and post-operative assessment of Vitamins in patients undergoing bariatric surgery.

Research

I have been constantly involved in clinical research since 1995, which has resulted in a few presentations (both oral & poster) at national & international meetings. My persistent clinical research activity over the last fifteen years has also lead to several presentations a few publications in-indexed journals.

Clinical Research Group

I initiated a surgical clinical research group in 2006 and we met once in two months on Tuesday evenings to discuss the research projects. Several trainees have learnt the basic principles of research, which includes data collection, project design, analysis and presentation. The minutes were recorded and distributed. Since 2006 we have completed & presented over twenty projects leading to oral & poster presentations at prestigious national & international scientific meetings. The abstracts were also published in major peer reviewed journals. A few papers were also published.

Journal Review

I have been reviewing manuscripts Since 2006 for

- Annals of the Royal College of Surgeons of England
- World Journal of Surgery

Teaching Experience

I have a special interest in teaching & I take every opportunity to involve myself in teaching programmes involving medical students & foundation years, core surgical trainees and SpR's

Under-graduate

Under-graduate ward / theatre-based teaching.

Under-graduate PBL session teaching

“Ask the expert session” Final year MB student Tutorials since April 2004 to date

F1 /F2 Teaching

I have been teaching on the foundation years teaching

Since 2003 on various upper GI problems (UHNS)

“Lecture on Upper GI Surgery” – bleeding, cancers

“Obesity”

SHO (CT1/CT2) Teaching

I initiated the weekly SHO teaching programme along with my colleague in 2003 for surgical trainees & later in 2006 this programme was extended to all the surgical speciality trainees in UHNS to a monthly half day teaching which includes tutors from all specialities.

Regional Training / Appointment Committee

Specialist Registrar RITA assessments - Birmingham 2004 -2008

Registrar’s Appointments committee –West midlands Surgical training programme. 2005, 2006, 2007

Staffordshire BST training committee for training and appointments.

I have been active in SHO/ STI appointments since 2004 as a Trainer, later Surgical Tutor and later a Programme Director.

Development & Organisation Courses

I have been actively involved since 2001 in teaching on the basic surgical skills, MRCS & Laparoscopic Core skills courses. I have also been actively involved in developing two courses at the Royal college of Surgeons in London.

- Laparoscopic Core skills (3 days)
A three-day programme which was developed for the Royal college of Surgeons of England, London. I organised the first Pilot programme in UHNS, Stoke on Trent to cost the course in 2006, which was later rolled out across England & Wales.
- Laparoscopic Anastomosis Course (Intermediate) - 2-day course
This course was designed to teach Laparoscopic suturing & intestinal anastomosis for Specialist Registrars. I organised this course for the SpR's in West-midlands, where they performed Laparoscopic Gastro-jejunal & small bowel anastomosis both with suturing and stapling techniques. This was arranged with industry and University Hospital support without any fees for our trainees in the region.
- Bariatric Course
I convened for the first National Bariatric course along with another surgeon for trainees & consultant surgeons in the Royal College of Surgeons in London In September 2009. I was actively involved in the design & developmental process of this 2-day Bariatric essential course.

We organised the second course in April 2010 in RCS London.

Laparoscopic Skills Lab Establishment

In 2007 I established the Laparoscopic Skills Lab with Eight Lap Stack systems and the monies were raised from the above courses. I conducted in Stoke-on-Trent along with help from industry & colleagues.

My experience in teaching & training since 2001 has helped me to understand the needs, the aims, the content and the structure of surgical course design. I have developed training exercises & methods taking into account the application of clinical operative skills into simulated activity. This experience has enabled me to design & develop new courses in Stoke-on-Trent, one of which is being delivered nationally in 2009 in the fields of Laparoscopic & Bariatric surgery.
